“ I worked with Cindy for many years and I consider it a privilege to have had her as a friend. She had a great way of making you laugh and would do anything for a friend. Cindy battled cancer with such grace and strength. Even through the pain and discomfort she pushed through it with gusto living each day as best she could and always thankful that God was in control. While I miss her now I am so thankful that she is rejoicing in heaven free from cancer. Love you girl and we WILL see each other again.

“ Cindy you are now home. Your in the most peaceful place and all hurting in gone. Say hello to all of our family that welcomes you home with outstretched arms. We will all miss hearing from you but have wonderful memories when we all got together as family and cherish those wonderful times. Love Sherry Mincey

“ How do you say goodbye to one of your very best friends for over 30 years? The one who always took your phone call, anytime you needed her? The girl with a heart of gold that loved bigger than life. She was generous, funny, forgiving, and most of all strong and brave. Her courage and strength during her battle with cancer was amazing. I believe no one took it head on anymore than Cindy did. Always fighting, always positive, and with nothing left, calmly saying God is in control. Her perseverance is a guiding light for all who truly knew her. I will miss you Cindy, my precious friend. I love you.
