“ Our hearts break for Frank, Michelle and Don. It's life devastating to loose your Mother and we imagine your wife. It brings us comfort to know Charlotte is no longer struggling, she won the battle and finished the race. I've been sick & won't be able to attend tomorrow, but know you are in our hearts and prayers for peace and comfort.

While it is so difficult to let go, everyone who was blessed to know Charlotte knows she is in the Presence of Jesus. We were blessed to know her, Frank and her family and honored to call her our friend. She was always smiling even through her pain and always a kind word for everyone. She crossed the finish line to heaven ahead of us and what a reunion it will be when all of our races are over. She will be waiting to welcome us Home with her beautiful smile.

“ Charlotte was a blessing to all who were fortunate enough to meet her. To know her was to love her. So many experienced Gods love, mercy and grace through her. She lived her faith, has left a legacy of showing what a follower of Christ is and has worked tirelessly with others to grow the kingdom of God. She loved passionately and worked tirelessly for God to be glorified. She was beautiful inside and out, she loved Jesus, her family, friends and strangers alike. "Well done they great and faithful servant!" You will live forever in my heart and continue to be a example of how to live life as a Christian and to the fullest. What a day of rejoicing it will be when I see you again.

What a blessing it was to know Charlotte. Her sweet smile & calm demeanor always shined through no matter what was going on. We first saw her servant heart up close as we had our first Thanksgiving sharing with our community at church. Her example of love was so touching. As we grew to know her more we saw what a huge heart she had in serving locally, and helped in our church developing a long term relationship with dear friends in Ecuador. She loved Jesus & people & serving along side her as well as calling her friend was a gift to all that knew her. Well done thy good & faithful servant. You will be missed by many but we have no doubt you are looking down on those you love with your beautiful smiling face. Till we see you again sweet friend.
