“ The grief that is felt when we lose a loved one may seem unbearable. At such times, we can go to God's word for comfort. God too feels hurt when an individual dies. That is why the encouragement found at Revelation 21:4 assure us that "He will remove sorrow and death will be no more." According to this scripture, there will come a time when those we have lost in death will be brought back by means of a resurrection by the Almighty God. May the family find the comfort that God makes available to all persons.

“ Kyle was precious to both of us, we love him very much, kind gentle, loving and fierce about standing for those he loved. A honorable and thoughtful young man, Conrad enjoyed time with him, whether playing golf, or visiting, I loved as well that when he saw us, he came running and gave me huge hugs.... he would tease us for being "old people that loved life and were fun". We saw a young man "honor bound" to live life with purpose and had the spirit of an man with purpose whose obstacles would be conquered one day at a time. We will never forget you Kyle, and when it is our time to meet you at heaven's gate, I will be expecting that wonderful smile, and a big "pick me off the ground and laugh hug". Conrad wants you to have the golf clubs at the ready! You touched our lives deeply, and ours are richer for the time we spent with you. For you family, we pray for peace and healing for all of you, he was a great young man, and as much as we will miss him, we know you will even more. May God hold you in the center of His Hand, may He cover you with the Balm of Gilead and comfort you in all ways needed. May he cover you with His Wings, and His Grace and Mercy. Trust the Lord, it may be hard right now, but trust Him.

“ My heart and prayers goes out to the family, I pray for the strenght of God to embrace the family. Kyle was a very respectfull young man, he visited my home many times, as he was a friend of my son. The last time I saw him I told him that to take his time and enjoy life. That I miss him and dont be a stranger. I did not know that would be the last time I would see him smile and say moma Brown I be back to see you and he hug me and drove away. RIP you left this Earth to Soon.
