

Cynthia "Cindy" G. Herring

November 8, 1955 - June 11, 2020

Cynthia G. Herring passed away on June 11, 2020 peacefully in Prattville, AL. She was born November 8, 1955 in Prattville, AL. Cindy was loved by all that knew her. And mostly she loved life. Her laughter will live in our hearts. She was preceded in death by her best friend and childhood hero, Teresa Faye Pelham; her parents, Dorthea and Claude Lee Herring; and sister, Joann Herring. She is survived by her beautiful daughter, Maggie Herring of Auburn, AL; sisters, Missy Bhatti (Faisal) and Wanda Ossman (Gary); brother, Claude Lee Herring (Tracy). She was a special aunt to Jerry Pelham (Stacie), Jennifer Pelham and Katelyn Ossman. To know her was a gift and one we will cherish for a lifetime.

“ Maggie, I share Miss Vickie's sadness tonight as we remember your mom. I have so many happy photos of your mom and you from our fun days on Mantlewood. I will always cherish those memories, and I truly send my prayers and best wishes to you tonight.

“ I am saddened to hear of Cindy's death. She was my next door neighbor, friend, and confidant. We were always at each other's houses...talking, laughing, and sharing weekly if not nightly meals. She was always there when I needed a friend, and she was the best of friends...David and I had dinner with Cindy in January, and we were planning to get together again to enjoy her " famous home cooked hamburgers and french fries."....then Covid struck and we had no opportunity to do that. Maggie, my heart goes out to you....Vickie

“ I just saw Cindy right before our 45th reunion and did all I could to get her to come. She sure had on her signature smile that day and her hug was warm and friendly. This old world has lost a lot of it's shine. R.I.P. my treasured friend.

Cindy and I sang in the back of Coach Irwin's class in Junior High. We were particularly good with, "Rainy Night In Georgia". We were great friends in High School and I always thought she was beautiful! She will always be remembered with such joy. Many prayers at this sad time. Bonnie Swindle Nesman

Cindy was a truly beautiful person and soul, inside and out. I did not know her very well, but ever time our paths crossed, it was a nice, pleasurable, and sometimes funny experience. Everyone gets mad sometimes, but I can truly say, that was a very, very rare experience with her. I cannot remember one. Her and her family are in my prayers as well. You probably know this, but she is someone you can be very proud of.
