She was my sister. I would have done anything for her and her children. She called me many times and often times we laughed until we couldn't and we have cried until we couldn't. We told jokes that only she and I understood why they were funny. We grew up together and shared the very best life had to give us. A mama and daddy who worshiped us and gave us a much better life than we would have ever had otherwise. We were spoiled. We were the baby's of my dad's family and were spoiled there as well. Deb was my hero. She was so much stronger than I ever could have been. She raised her children and she raised them well. Often times all by herself. She was sunshine in my life and she loved my children well. She was a wonderful aunt. She loved freely and deeply and would help anyone that she could. She was a generous soul. She loved coffee and Alabama football!!! She and I shared many secrets before she left me. God blessed me with the most wonderful gift the night He called her home. She and I had just talked a couple of hours before. We laughed and carried on like we always did, not knowing her time with us was so short. I will forever be grateful for the beauty she brought to my life, but will forever have a hole in my heart and soul that only she could feel.

“ I am so sorry for your loss! I grew up with Deb and as always we lost touch for awhile and then reconnected via Facebook. She always had encouraging words for everyone and yes, she loved her family and was proud of her family as it was so evident in all she said and did. I have great memories of my childhood with her and our friendship. She will be so missed by many. Keeping the entire family in my thoughts and prayers.
