“ Dear Meek Family. I would like to express my Condolences on the passing of Jamo. Everytime I saw him he was in such a great mood. To Jamie: Baby girl all things trough christ will work them selves out. Keep your head held high and know that your father loved you so very much. Make sure that grand baby you are carring knows everything there is to know about her/his grandfather.(Jamo would love that dearly)

Bud: sweet heart I know you are so hurt inside however you have to remember just how sick your father was, and fighting that battle is extremely hard on ones body. Jamo just could not fight that fight any longer. But, that does not mean he doesn't love you, and Jamie still even if he's not here in person.He can still hear you, and see you and visit you in spirt. Keep your head up and remain strong...However you do need to greve. Talk to your mom talk to jamie, or you can always call me. I will be there you the both of you.

Mammo: Please know this is the hardest thing to have to go trough. Lossing a child just tears your heart apart. I'm so very sorry for your loss. Turn to family talk about your feelings, this will help you out to face the day. If there is anything We can do please just let me know. Many thoughts and Prayers sent your way.

“ During this time of great sorrow, may it comfort you to know that others are deeply touched by your loss. I, too, know the pain of losing someone dear. Even though our hearts are broken, rest assured that our Grand Creator cares about you personally (1 Peter 5:7) and can help you through this difficult time. Revelation 21:4 speaks of a time soon when God will do away with death forever. There will be no more sorrow, heartache, or pain. May your happy memories and sure scriptural hope comfort your hearts during this painful time
