“ Mr. Robert's was a wonderful man. He and Miss Jean became family over the last decade that we have been neighbors. In the summer, you would find him on the patio after a hard days work. He'd have on a tropical shirt, shorts, and a straw hat. He'd always offer you a cold drink and invite you to sit a while. He and my husband traded stories about their time in the service. You could tell just how in love he and Jean were every time they looked at each other. They had such a beautiful love story that endured every crisis life put in front of them. He will greatly missed.
