“ Jessica, there are no words to express the sadness. Although I know you are safe in the arms of the Lord, my heart is still broken. Even though you were only 25, rest in peace because whatever God had in store for you, you accomplished it. You are loved by many and will be missed. God has opened the door of everlasting life- enjoy every minute of it until we can all be together again. My heart and prayers are with your family.

“ If you loved my sister like i did then she was your Whole world! She was the cool crisp morning air; The Brightest star in and clear country night sky. She was the shoulder i depended on to get through hard times, and the voice in the back of my head that drove me to do better! the one that always told me that i could do it! No matter the how hard it may have seemed! My sister was my role mode; I the girl i have always wanted to be like.

My sister was the strongest and was driven by more will power than anyone else i know. she was able to do this simply by the thought of a better tomorrow. she always said to me, ' Stephie Bug I know things are hard right now i promise we will get through this & it will be Ok in the end. My sister was the most important person on this entire planet to me and even tho i have disappointed her in the past I refuse to let her down again. I LOVE YOU JESSICA LEIGH WILLIAMSON! I will think of you everyday in sweet memories. I will have a smile across my face when i see a pretty sunflower or if i see an arrowhead like yours that you were so proud of. I feel lost right now because i always depended on you to make sure i was ok, but I promise i will listen to your advise and not make the same mistakes that i have watched so many people make. I promise I will follow my dreams and remain determined until they are accomplished. I will make you very proud of me big sister; I will be the best big cousin for Haylie n Mason, just like you were. Jessica Im so sorry for not coming to you when you called me that morning. Im so so sorry that I didnt save you when you were always my angel in disguise. Please forgive me my beautiful angel and blow my kisses from the sky's in heaven.

*I will always love you!
your lil sissy*

“ Jessica I still remember your first day at 63rd like it was yesterday. Someone thought it was a good idea to run from the company area in our ACU's to the Air Assault Course. You had an assault pack filled with whatever. You were falling out of formation since clearly running in ACU's and boots alone sucks and then you had the weight from your pack. A few of the higher NCO's were yelling at people falling out and I felt so bad for you. Since I was a decent runner I came to you and told you to give me your pack and ran with you and encouraged you. We made it to the Air Assault Course right behind everyone else. I will never forget that day. It was one of the best days of my life because it started an amazing friendship. I love you so much and miss you more than you will ever know. Please shine down on all of us and give us the comfort we need to get through this hard time. I am praying for Robin, Rodger, and Steph and the rest of your family. My heart is forever broken.

“ Ever since the first time we met at your aunt Tammy's and Eric's, we had a special relationship. Like any relationship it came with ups, downs, breakups and makeups. And even though we drifted apart over the past couple of years, you have always, and will always hold a big special place in my heart. The memories I have of You, Me, Steph, Brink, and Caitlin I will always cherish. But the times you and I spent together were the most "FULL of LIFE" times I've ever had. Words can't express how much you will be missed. My most sincere condolences go out to Robin, Steph, and your family. I love you and miss you Jess. ---CHASE---
