“ oh i dont even know where to start, I had not seen John Paul in a few years, one Saturday i went into Dollar General, there was a young man i noticed being so helpful to a man looking for a certain dog food i remember thinking that young man sure is being considerate helping that customer, wasnt but just a minute the young man came up to me and said Denise? i turned around and this grown young man stood before me i didnt recognize because the last time id seen John Paul he had long bangs, no facial hair and was about a foot shorter, i asked "Do i know you?" he John paul Denise, its John Paul i hugged his neck so hard and he hugged me , i think I may have hugged his neck three times before our conversation was over caught up on how the family was doing. This is just a example of this childs heart, he was the kindest and most loving child id ever had the experience of meeting, he never met a stranger. im so thankful i got to spend that short time with him before i heard this terrible news, my prayers go out to his family especially his momma, there is no greater pain of losing a child. John Paul you have no idea how much you will be missed, by all who ever had the priviledge of knowing you, you are the kindest of souls, im so thankful for the memories.
Loves, Denise

“ He was the best, this world is not the same with him gone. I met him when he was 4, we hit it off immediately, I couldn't tell you how many nights we would just play videogames together, I'd been seeing him every day at his work. He gave a big hug last time I saw him. One I'll never forget.
