“ She was a good cook. I ate many a Sunday dinner at her home. Helen and I would sometimes spend the nights in summer from Wed. to Sun. We would play baseball in the cow pasture across from their house. The book mobile or the rolling store would come by. Since we lived in Montgomery, these country visits were a treat that broadened our horizons. She was a beautiful woman inside and out. As it turns out I married a man double kin to her. I am blessed. We all are blessed by having known her. My sympathy to the family and blessings that only our great God of comfort can provide.
