“ last year on my birthday everyone was out of town except him and Jim. I asked him to take me to an escape room. He huffed and told me not to tell anyone because he didn't want people to think he would do that again. He was super smart but pretty stressed being locked in. I could never have a bad day around him, he wouldn't allow it. He always knew what to say or so to make me smile. He was Uncle Cliffy to my kids and he spoiled them all. He will forever be in my heart.

“Cliff was the most generous man I’ve ever known. He touched so many lives with his “light up a room” charisma and his beautiful heart. He taught me so many things... football, plumbing, how to find great tacos, and most of all love. I will love him forever and I will like him for always. Thank you for sharing him with me!
