“ I met Ross Miller in the early 80’s when he worked at Ed Rouse’s auto restoration in Prattville. I was military and eventually moved on, but I’ve thought of Ross Miller many times since those days. One of the first things that come to mind is a day when some of us were standing in the parking lot of Ed’s shop en route to lunch. Out of the blue, Ross broke into a popular song by the English hard rock super group, “Bad Company”. The line he sang from the song “All Right Now” was: “Now don’t you wait, or hesitate, let’s move before they raise the parking rate.” I had no idea Ross could sing, and he made his voice perfectly match that of “Bad Company’s” lead singer, Paul Rodgers. I always think of him when I hear that song. Sharing in your sadness as we remember. Rest in peace Ross Miller.

“ Laughter in Heaven has increased 1000%. Ross Miller was one of the kindest, sweetest men I've ever known. The very definition of Servant of the Lord. Lori and Emily you are in my prayers. Ellen Royal

“ We are so sorry to hear of the passing of Mr. Ross, as we affectionately called him, during our time together at First Presbyterian while stationed at Maxwell, AFB. We will never forget all of the wonderful children sermons he prepared faithfully every Sunday which really were sermons for the adults as well. Ross had a one of a kind, larger than life, personality and we will all miss him so much! We are grateful for having known such a fine Christian man, who adored his wife Lori and daughter Emily! We wish we could be there to extend our deep condolences in person but we just learned of this a few minutes ago and living in N.C. it would be impossible to attend his service tomorrow. Please accept our heart felt condolences and you can rest assured that you will be in our prayers!
With love and deepest sympathy,
