“ I am feeling a little nostalgic today and just wanted to see Steve's face. I wish I could hear that message on my phone again "I didn't want nothing" that he would leave on my voice mail. I miss him. I miss his cutting up, laughing and always lending a helping hand. You didn't even have to ask for help, he knew and was always there. I will see you again brother. Save me a place. I love you always.

Steve and my brother (Warren Cook) and myself (Sheila Cook Varnadore) went to school at ACHS. He was always smiling and a great person. Your family will be in our prayers. Lean on the Lord, He will see you through.

“ My Dad use to tell us a fishing story and him and Steve. My Dad kept his bass boat at my Aunt Avis and Uncle J.S.'s house. He liked to go jugging in the river at night. Steve would go with him sometimes. This was a long time ago, but it is a funny story. They went to Cooter's Pond. They had the spot light on the bow turned on shining out to the River and the motor tilted up. Dad was going to back the boat into the water. He had Steve to untie the boat and to stand on the dock holding the rope. Dad backed the trailer into the water and hit the brakes and the boat slid off the trailer into the water. Dad pulled the car and trailer up to park. Steve called out "Uncle Bill, how long is this rope?" My Dad said "Not that long Steve". Steve was going to jump in the water to catch the boat, Dad told him not to because the water was too cold and he would freeze. They just stood there and watch the boat go out the channel and start down the river. They could see the spotlight shine through the trees as the boat turned in circles as it went down river. Dad said they would drive to a phone (now remember this was before cell phones) and call Uncle Ed, who lived down river off Old Selma Road by Gunter Hill Park. They had Uncle Ed put his boat in and come up River to get my Dad's boat.
