“ One of my favorite memories of William was when he was leaving for the Military. He had some very long hair and I cut it all off and braided it. As far as I can remember I still have that braid. He was such a good kid and wonderful teen. He always stayed out of trouble. Yes Mam, No Mam was his manners. Always called me Mom and I loved him like a Son. Another great Angel in Heaven...RIP William

“ So thankful to Will for his service to the River of Life Church Music Ministry. He faithfully came to our practices, when he wasn't working, to run the sound and even joined us during our devotion time. His faithfulness meant so much to us. He is truly missed! May God bless his family. ~Linda Cummins~

“ Our heart go out to my sis, Becki, all the kids and grandkids during this time of loss. We got to know Will as he easily became part of our family. We did not grow to love him, we loved him from the moment he came into Becki and the girls lives because we saw what a caring and loving man he was and without hesitation stepped in to nurture and love Carissa, Chelsea and Cierra. The unconditional love he gave to my beautiful sister and the love he accepted in return. Though they were few, the moments we spent with Will in our life, Thanksgiving in our home in Virginia Beach, and the clear devotion and love he had for all around him made it easy for us to call him our brother. We love you Will and thank you for all the great things you had done for those that you touched during your time on this earth, and we know that you will continue to be that gracious, wonderful, caring man that you are as you continue your journey to the next level. As Becki and the rest of the family go through the trials and tribulations that face us we will hold on to your memory to help us through. Becki, you are a warrior, and we know you have a lot on your table. Our hearts stay with you every moment of every day, we LOVE YOU BECKI.

WILL, you will be missed, WE LOVE YOU

“ Will was a wonderful man when I was in danger he and Becki came and got me and took me in for a couple of weeks until I got my car back. He never had a bad word for a person that I heard. When my husband and I went to visit this last spring he talked like he knew my husband for years. You will be missed by many. God watch over his family.

“ Last night Caden's bedtime story was about a grandfather that taught his grandson that when people pass they go to heaven and the stars are their campfires. After reading the book he went outside and found Poppa's star glowing bright. I felt that was him telling me he's home where he wants to be. As hard as it is without you here I will carry you in my heart forever. My Dad, My Hero, My Angel. I love you!

“ I have plenty of memories so great others terrifying but one thing I'll never forget is the way you got in my butt telling me I have to stay strong for mom..I wished you could have to i wished that last Friday you would of talked to me about everything and let us known how lost and alone you felt.but to know your at peace relieves me a lot even though it hurts having to say farewell I'm a try my hardest to stay strong only cause you told me I have to.instead of arguing sometimes I wished I would of listened.but more than anything I'll always remember the love you have for my momma!!& the love and support you showed us girls I'm not gonna say goodbye cause we'll be joined again but I'm say farewell my angel I guess God needed you to watch over us we love you fly high
